The Class of 1950

Presents

The CLOISTERETTE

Foreword

We, the Class of Fifty, have chosen the theme—Travel.

In view of the ever increasing amount of travel being done by all individuals, whether a trip around the world or just a Sunday drive, we all know more traveling is being done than ever before.

We believe that ultimate happiness shall be ours as we travel into the realms of knowledge using as our conveyances books plus the knowledge and advice of others.

Upon completion of this year we shall set out upon the biggest and most exciting trip of all, living with our fellow men; and we hope that, though even to just a small extent, we might be able to promote a happier journey for everyone.

Class History

TRAVELING ONWARD

In September, 1946, with an enrollment of 170 we started our progression to become seniors. Our class was well represented in all extra-curricula activities. Our representatives to the newly organized Student Council were Joanne Young and David Brunner. The "Frata-Starlets", a junior high dramatics club, came into existence under the direction of Miss Eichner. Cheering our basketball team to success were Barbara Minnich, Barbara Grill, Milo Zimmerman, and Paul Wolf. On April 29, we held our Freshman dance, originated by our class.

Continuing our journey we entered senior high school as sophomores. Our class officers were David Brunner, President; Paul Wolf, Vice-President; Joanne Young, Secretary; and Jacqueline Beck, Treasurer. Frymyer, Hoover, Hertzog, and Neff scored the points in J. V. basketball, while Royer and Kilhefner did their part on the gridiron. Two newly organized clubs were the Girls' Rifle Club, under the supervision of Miss McMillen and the orchestra under the direction of Mr. Berger who replaced Mr. Bohn. We elected as representatives to the Student Council Joanne Young, Milo Zimmerman, and David Brunner.

Progressing through high school we became juniors with the following officers: David Kurtz, President; Milo Zimmerman, Vice-President; Joanne Young, Secretary; and Jacqueline Beck, Treasurer. Ray Will, David Brunner, Joan Seiverling, David Kurtz, and Joanne Young represented us in Student Council.

We participated in all extra-curricula activities including the newly organized Key Club with Richard Mohler as president. Chester Hoover, Ken Kilhefner, Larry Royer, Rod Mellinger, and Bruce Frymyer helped to lead our football team to a glorious victory.

We ordered our hats, jackets, pennants, and emblems and we had received them before Easter.

Bob Lyter's orchestra furnished the music for the annual Junior Prom, May 6. Our theme was "The Forty-Niners."

Upon leaving our junior year we reached the final step in our high school career. We elected the following as class officers: Milo Zimmerman, President; James Cooper, Vice-President; Lorraine Gerhart, Secretary; and Harry Ward, Treasurer.

Student Council was again organized with Dave Brunner as president. Other members from our class were Joan Seiverling, Lorraine Gerhart, Richard Mohler, Joanne Young, Milo Zimmerman, and Rod Mellinger.

Football co-captains, Royer and Kilhefner, led the team through the season. We emerged triumphant from the annual Ephrata-Lititz fray with a score of 33-13. Our basketball team proved to be very successful. Members of the team were Frymyer, Neff, Hoover, Royer, and Kilhefner.

On May 5 we were the guests of the class of 1951 at the Junior Prom.

Our journey came to a temporary halt with Baccalaureate, Class Day, and Commencement. After this we will continue our journey onto life's highway.

Class Prophecy

On this lovely day in the summer of 1950 we hop into our car to tour the Ephrata countryside. As we drive along admiring the scenery, our eyes stray from the road, and we fail to see an on-coming truck. Our car is thrown off the road as the two vehicles collide. We are stunned and only semi-conscious as a result of the accident. The surrounding area is a hazy mist.

But suddenly everything becomes clear and we see, by some miracle of nature, the town of Ephrata as it will appear in the year 1965.

We find our car replaced by a helicopter, built by the "Cox and Cooper" Modern Aircraft Factory, which is owned and operated by our former classmates, Paul and Clair.

We board our plane and journey back to the center of Ephrata where we are greeted by Burgess John Bowman and his private secretaries, Eleanor Ruth and Evelyn Landis. Burgess Bowman offers to guide us through Ephrata that we might see our former classmates.

Our first stop is the famous Ephrata Park where today the new "jet-auto" is to be exhibited. The jet-auto is a combination plane and auto built by inventors Eugene Stark and Bill Brill.

At the park we see Joyce Coble, the noted novelist, chatting with Ellen Chanton, famous artist, whose paintings were recently bought by the multi-millionaire, Herbert Hoover.

In the grandstand we see our old classmates who are now teachers at the Melvin Royer Senior High School named after one of education's most zealous backers. There are Charles Beshore, math teacher, Doris Brossman, history teacher, Gloria Grabill, German teacher, Rose Getz, English teacher, Etta Jean Diem, instructress of instrumental music, and Lorraine Gerhart, head of the commercial department.

As we take our seats, Paul Wechter, eminent sports announcer, tells us of the day's events.

First on the repertoire is an all-star parade led by Vivienne Ream, world's champion majorette. One of the main features of the parade is Kathryn Stohler, African huntress. Other famous participants are Eugene Brossman, Spanish matador, Paul Wolf, pitcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, Clarissa Andes, inventor of Ephratium, the ninety-eighth element, Rodney Wolf, boxing champion and Ken Kilhefner and Larry Royer, former Notre Dame fullbacks.

After the parade there is an oration by Jacquie Wolf, a member of the "World Wide Travel Agency," which was organized by Elmer Griffith and Gerald Kochel. The agency is sponsored by the noted philanthropist, John D. Becker.

We are then entertained by a horse show presented by Harry Ward and his bareback riders, Helen and Hilda Hufford, Bertha Yoder, and Ruby Spotts.

Finally there is an exhibition by Chester Hoover, holder of the title, "The World's Most Perfectly Developed Man." Also in the act is Wilma Adams, circus acrobat.

The jet-auto is then brought into the park. Seated in it for the trial ride are Barbara Minnich, Paris fashion designer, Ruth Weber, New York architect, and Eleanor Kilhefner, star of stage, screen and television. Driving the invention is Anna Mary Fry, Director of the Women of the Air Force. The auto is christened by Phyllis Burkholder, Boston socialite. The engine is warmed up and away it goes. The jet runs smoothly on the ground. Anna Mary pushes the button to take off. But the auto fails to leave the ground. It crashes headlong into the speaker's platform. Joanne Young, editor of the "Ephrata Times," the country's leading newspaper, published by the Ensinger Brothers, rushes to get a story. The only person hurt is Ruth Enck, secretary to Milo Zimmerman, music publisher. She is taken to the Ephrata Hospital, where Gloria Wenger, medical secretary checks her in. Dr. David Kurtz, after a thorough examination, reveals that there are no serious injuries. As we pass the psychiatric ward on our way out we see Dolores Stark, Doctor of Psychiatry. The Ephrata Hospital has one of the most expert nursing staffs in the country. Headed by Fae Renninger, it includes Shirley Albright, Helen Boyer, Barbara Grill, Cecelia Brossman, Audrey Nagle, Mary Jane Palm, and Jean Rollman. Others of our classmates who are now on the hospital staff are Faye Zwally, medical secretary, Lorraine Steely, laboratory technician, Wayne Reber, chiropractor, Bruce Frymyer, surgeon, Dolores Althouse, dietitian, and Patsy Harter and Joan Fry, heads of the children's ward. As we leave the hospital we see Charlie Horst, Ephrata undertaker, entering the rear entrance.

Burgess Bowman then guides us to the Cloister Bowl, a restaurant owned by Nancy Martin and Jane Kilhefner. The waitresses are Gloria Stillwell and Hazel Ulrich. As a special feature we are entertained by the Hawaiian dancers, June Waid and Jeanette Zimmerman. Also at the Cloister Bowl are Henrietta Mohler, teacher of the Blind, and her secretary, Dorothy Rudy. We see our classmates who are now happily married. They are Eleanor Adams, Phyllis Longenecker, Pat Wolf, and Tressie Peachy. Glen Horst and Melvin Hertzog, traveling salesmen treat Rod Mellinger, Pennsylvania Senator, and William Leonard, Ephrata Councilman to a meal. Eleanor Griffith and Mary Ann Dohner, interior decorators, discuss trade secrets.

As we leave the restaurant we see Richard Mohler, chemical engineer, James Cooper, mathematician, and Dave Brunner, atomic scientist.

As we travel up Pierce Avenue, named after John Pierce, contractor, we pass the Hoffman Watch Company. John Dunlap and Tom Burkholder, bookkeepers for the company are explaining the merits of a new watch to Jack Neff, John Peiffer, and Franklin Moyer, Ephrata businessmen. Also in the factory are Pat Hess and Josephine Lied, Edwin G. Barnett, models, and Harry Stover, photographer of the world's most beautiful women.

Farther up Pierce Avenue we see the Miller and Miller law firm headed by Ken and Tom Miller. Conversing with the lawyers are Sid Weber, Supreme Court Justice and Nancy Weaver, noted guidance counselor.

Our next stop in Ephrata is the Ditzler Bus Terminal which runs buses every half hour between Hopeland and Ephrata. We arrive just in time to see boarding a bus, Irene Fake, owner of Fakes, "the fashion Center of Ephrata," Amelia Brossman, Secretary of Agriculture, and Elmer Brumbach, renown toy manufacturer. Also at the terminal is Mae Gamber, typist for Vierling and Hiester, writers of mystery stories. Seated near the front of a bus for Hopeland are Ken Weaver and Donald Royer, park bench philosophers.

Our final stop in Ephrata is the Opera House, where tonight Mary Anne Rottmund, Johanna Raunick, Richard Weaver, and Janet Althouse are making their first appearance in Ephrata, after a tour of the United States and Europe. Music is furnished by Barry Enck and his orchestra, and Edith Petticoffer, pianist. The program was arranged by Jane Koch, head of the Opera Company.

In the audience are such well known music lovers as Anna Jane Hall, famous sculptress, Rose Ginter, trapeze artist, and Joan Seiverling, comedienne. Behind the scenes in the theater we see Vernon Lefever and Horace Shirk-er, electricians, Shirley Matt, make up artist, and Lillian Huber and Charmaine Phillips, costume designers. Ray Will, noted Master of Ceremonies announces the night's events.

Arriving at the last minute are Jack Moyer, author of "Moyer's Marvelous Textbooks for Industrious Scholars," and Joanne Schlott and Mary Stephan, editors of the "Woman's Home Companion."

After an enjoyable evening we leave the theater and stop for a bite to eat at "Loretta's Snack Bar" owned and operated by Loretta Rudy.

Then as the shades of evening have been pulled down we wearily trudge home hoping that tomorrow we will see Ephrata as it was in 1950, and we heartily moan, "Oh! No! This can't happen to us!"

Class Will

We, the class of '50, being of partly sane mind (99.9% water), and after twelve years of mental slavery do bequeath to the class of '51 our ruins and ashes to be scattered among the following as a reminder of our once existence.

1. To our supervisor, Mr. Hartzler, best wishes.
2. To the faculty members, another class like that of '50.
3. To Pat Garman, June Waid's stature.
4. To Cyrus Dietrich, Richard Weaver's physique.
5. To the school library, "How to be Late and Still get a Diploma" by Joan Seiverling.
6. To Donald Harsh and Laurie Weaver, Milo Zimmerman and Barry Enck's companionship.
7. To the class of '51, the brains of the class of '50.
8. To "Josh" Peiffer's successor, his celery baton.
9. To Shirley Trupe, Patsy Harter's quiet manners.
10. To Evelyn Ay, Jacqueline Beck's I. Q.
11. To Chas. Zinn, Harry Ward's flirtatious comments to the girls.
12. To Virginia Sweigart, Dorothy Rudy's shorthand marks.
13. To Lester Brubaker, Bruce Frymyer's "shiftiness" on the basketball floor.
14. To Gene Rutt, Melvin Royer's bowling ability.
15. To Tom Stark, Dave Brunner's hep on the dance floor.
16. To Gerry Lied, Ruth Weber's basketball shots.
17. To the future Boys' Rifle Team, some girl sharpshooters.
18. To Pauline Vollenweider, Hilda Hufford's short black tresses.
19. To Shirley Eitneir, Joanne Young's seat on the Student Council.
20. To "Jake" Weaver, "tenor" Kochel's foolishness.
21. To Kathryn Sweigart, Eleanor Ruth's jump.
22. To the school, David Lee Kurtz's Model T Ford to be used for transportation.
23. To Karen Shimp, Henrietta Mohler's devotion to trigonometry.
24. To Helen Greenly, Irene Fake's horse laugh.
25. To Mary Alice Sweigart, Pat Hess's "New Look" hairdo.
26. To Nancy Strickler, Barbara Minnich's neat appearance.
27. To Harry Renninger, Larry Royer's position as tackle.
28. To Donald Usner, Jack Moyer's love for fire in chemistry.
29. To Jane Kochel, Audrey Nagle's position on the rifle team.
30. To Patsy Longenecker, Eleanor Kilhefner's dramatic ability.

FIRST ROW—T. Stark, K. Weaver, L. Brubaker, C. Hoover, H. Renninger, L. Royer, K. Kilhefner, E. Rutt, D. Weaver, R. Will, H. Shirker, D. Brossman.

Ephrata High's football team this year displayed both promise and disappointment. Having started the season with little success, they showed what they were capable of doing by defeating Lititz 33-13 in the final game of the season.

Our team finished third in the Conference of the Roses behind Elizabethtown and Manheim Township.

Missing from next year's squad will be: Co-captains Larry Royer and Ken Kilhefner; Ken Weaver, Chester Hoover, Ray Will, Rod Mellinger, Horace Shirker, and Harold Hiester.

To the new squad, headed by Lester Brubaker and Donald Weaver, the class of '50 wishes an undefeated season.

The Varsity basketballers of Ephrata High, under the able tutelage of Coach Roger Care, have enjoyed one of the most successful years in the history of the school, winning the section number two crown and entering both the county playoffs and the state playoffs.

Coach Care inaugurated the two-platoon system into the school and produced two teams whose skillful shooting, equally deft ball-handling and teamwork made them an unbeatable combination.

Seniors lost to the team through graduation are: Bruce Frymyer, Jack Neff, Ken Kilhefner, Larry Royer, and "Chet" Hoover.

The Class of '50 wishes to extend its best wishes to Coach Care and his next year's cage team, and all other hardwood squads in the future of E. H. S.

This year, the Junior Varsity hardwood squad displayed a fine brand of basketball which placed them in runner up slot in section number two J. V. league. The team, showing their adaptability to all conditions, came through with a very successful season displaying to the crowd some very exciting and thrill-packed games.

Mr. Graham, Junior Varsity coach for the previous two years, has molded his team into a fast moving, well-balanced outfit.

FIRST ROW—R. Mohler, H. Stover, C. Beshore.

This group of boys have displayed their marksmanship on the rifle range, under the expert supervision of Mr. Brubaker.

The following officers were elected: Harry Stover, President; Charles Beshore, Secretary-treasurer. Richard Mohler, Range Officer, appointed Wayne Buffenmyer his first assistant Range Officer and Galen McQuate second assistant.

Having competed unsuccessfully against Manheim Township, Mt. Joy and West Lampeter, the Ephrata Range men showed their rifle ability when they defeated the alumni 489-480.

To these boys we wish lots of success in the coming years.

FIRST ROW—J. Kochel, E. Griffith, A. Nagle, C. Renninger.

This group of girls under the supervision of Miss McMullen have capably shown their ability to handle a rifle on the rifle range. They have held their meetings every Thursday after school. Only those girls are admitted to the club who can pass a test on the different parts of a gun and the safety rules concerning the handling of their rifles.

Officers of the club are: President, Eleanor Griffith; Range Officer, Audrey Nagle; Assistants, Jane Kochel and Cynthia Renninger.

Cheerleaders

These six girls have helped with their pep and vitality to bring our football and basketball teams to victory. They are: seniors; Joan Seiverling and Eleanor Kilhefner, Co-captains; Barbara Grill and Eleanor Ruth. The juniors are Katherine Sweigart and Sara Myers, who will be next year's Co-captains.

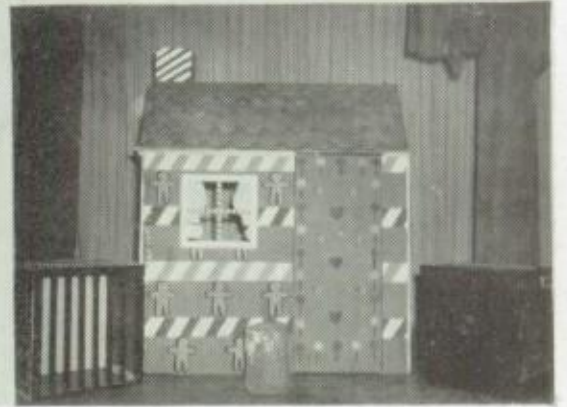

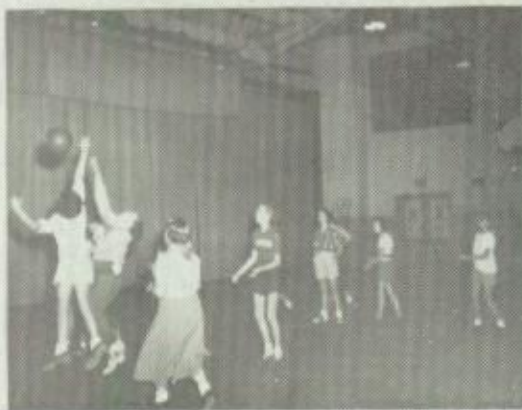

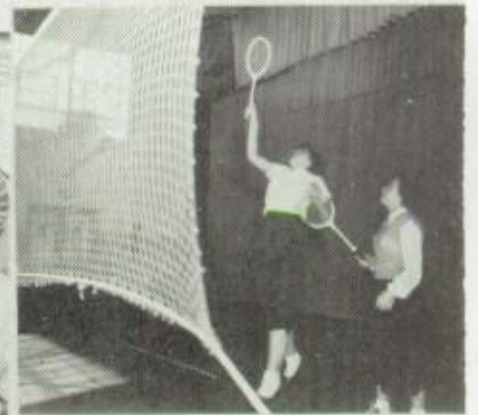

We hope that future teams of Ephrata may have cheerleaders who will serve as faithfully and diligently as this year's group of "pepsters".

FIRST ROW—J. Witmer, L. Gerhart, T. Kilhefner.

This organization met each week under the faculty direction of Mr. Hammon. Its purpose was to plan the school activities, discuss the problems which arose during the school year, and encourage participation in all school activities.

This year the Student Council joined the National Association of Student Councils which entitled all members to buy and wear the official student council pin, to receive a handbook which suggests successful hints for the management of a student council, and to obtain a monthly magazine which was sent to the library.

The members solicited for the Red Cross, printed the announcements for the Home and School Association, and tried various methods to obtain student participation in activities.

Officers for the 1949-1950 Student Council were: President, David Brunner; Vice-President, Donald Weaver; Recording Secretary, Joan Seiverling; Corresponding Secretary, Lorraine Gerhart; Treasurer, Richard Mohler; and Sergeant-at-Arms, Larry Eitnier.

The senior members are: David Brunner, Lorraine Gerhart, Richard Mohler, Joan Seiverling, Joanne Young, Milo Zimmerman, and Rodney Mellinger.

Mountaineer Staff

FOURTH ROW—(left to right): J. Rishel, M. Cammauf, S. Albright, N. Lewis, I. Althouse, J. Coover, D. Usner, D. Rudy, A. Nagle.

THIRD ROW—E. Kilhefner, K. Shimp, P. Eckhart, E. Ay, P. Garman, D. Potter, H. Boyer, E. Petticoffer, R. Weber, P. Wolf.

SECOND ROW—J. Young, C. Andes, E. Gooding, B. Leshner, F. Kreider, H. Ward, P. Mohler, J. Beck, H. Mohler, G. Grabill.

FIRST ROW—Miss Keller, Y. Smith, M. Beck, E. Griffith, N. Ursprung, J. Mohler, L. Gerhart, Miss Weidman.

As the 1949-1950 school year began, the "Mountaineer" staff planned the editing of the school paper. The sales campaign brought in subscriptions well over the set goal and the members plunged into their work with the aid and guidance of the advisors, Miss Keller and Miss Weidman.

This year Ephrata High School is honored to have its school publication named a member of the Pennsylvania Scholastic Press Association (P. S. P. A.). The class of 1950 compliments the "Mountaineer" for the accomplishment and wishes the future staffs many years of fine work.

Band

The band, under the fine supervision of Mr. Berger, has completed another successful year. It helped cheer our boys to victory at the football games and supplied music at the dedication of Ephrata's new Community Hospital.

Several parades were favored by the presence of our band, among them, the Ephrata Fair parade, the Lancaster Armistice Day parade, and the Memorial Day parade.

The band presented two concerts, one in midwinter and another in the spring.

Frata students were also entertained by the band at various chapel programs.

The officers of the band were: Manager, Richard Weaver; Student Director, Barry Enck; Field Captain, Vivienne Ream; Majorette Captain, Evelyn Ay; Swiss Flag Captain, Dolores Althouse.

The class of '50 extends to this group best wishes for many more successful years.

Orchestra

Under the direction of Mr. Berger the orchestra launched upon its musical season for the third consecutive year. Composed of Junior and Senior High students, the orchestra is steadily growing in size and talent.

Throughout the year this group of fifty musicians has favored us with selections during school assemblies and public performances, including a mid-year concert.

Members of the orchestra participated in the County Orchestra Festival and later in District Orchestra.

From the class of 1950 comes the hope of continued success for the Ephrata High School Orchestra.

Seniors in the orchestra: Ruth Weber, Milo Zimmerman, Phyllis Burkholder, Dolores Stark, David Lee Kurtz, Rodney Mellinger, Barry Enck, and John Peiffer.

Senior Mixed Chorus

This talented organization met every Tuesday and Thursday under the supervision of Mrs. Leisey, and was accompanied by Ruth Enck. It consists of ninety-six senior high school students.

On November 23rd the chorus entertained us with a Thanksgiving program in the form of a hoe-down, which was quite amusing to all. These same members participated in the annual Music Festival in March which was again held in Ephrata.

Having presented many selections in chapel programs during the year, this organization closed another successful year.

Junior High Mixed Chorus

This organization is composed of approximately one hundred lads and lasses from seventh, eighth, and ninth grades. Their melodious voices could be heard every Monday and Wednesday practicing during the half hour period.

Outstanding among their accomplishments was the operetta "Hansel and Gretel", presented on December 14. They also presented us with many selections in chapel and in the Spring Festival.

This chorus was under the direction of Mrs. Leisey, and Helen Zell was the piano accompanist.

Key Club

Although this club was organized only recently, it has done many outstanding jobs for the betterment of school and community. This up-and-coming organization, consisting of only those boys whose grades lie within the upper one-third of the class, is meant mainly to teach leadership, responsibility, and co-operation to those boys who have so qualified and are willing to help in the service of the club. A sub-division of the Kiwanis Club, the Key Club is also an international organization; and its government is almost identical to that of the Kiwanis Club. The officers of the Key Club are as follows: Ronald Hartranft, President; Richard Weaver, First Vice-president; Nevin Crowther, Second Vice-president; Edwin Gooding, Secretary, and Lester Strauch, Treasurer.

Seniors in the club are: Milo Zimmerman, Richard Mohler, David Kurtz, Rodney Mellinger, and Richard Weaver.

Frata Footlighters

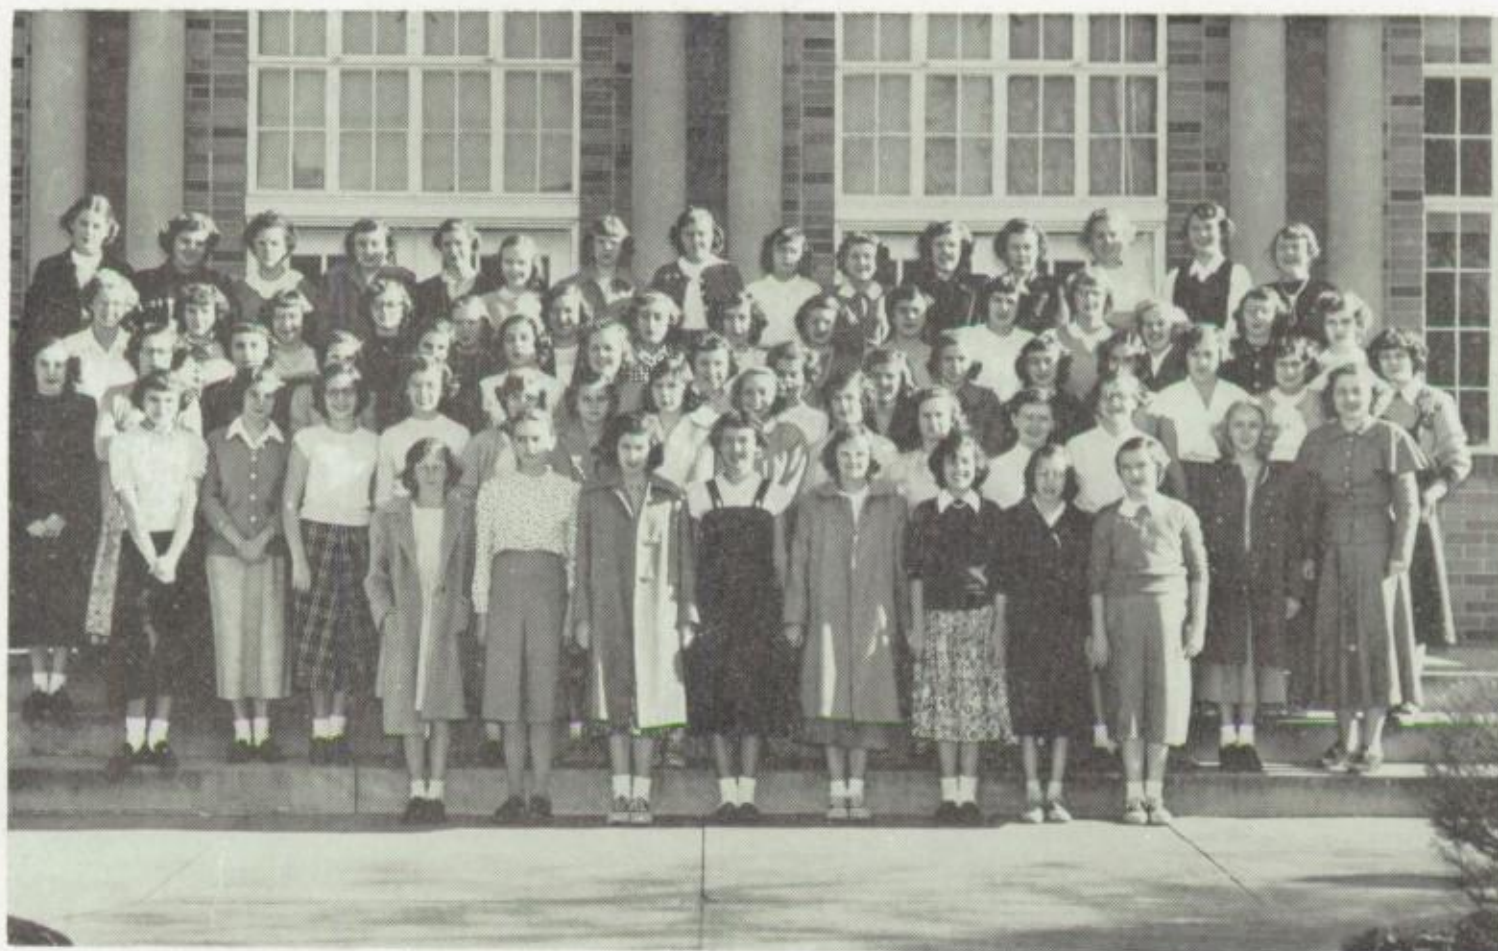

This club, under the supervision of Mr. Metzler, was again organized in the early part of the year. It held its meetings every first and third Monday of each month. At each meeting different committees presented a program, usually consisting of a few short plays. These plays gave the members of the club an opportunity to see if they had any talent for acting.

This year, instead of sponsoring the annual school play, the club sponsored the operetta "Hansel and Gretel".

The officers of the club are: Joan Seiverling, President; Karen Shimp, Vice-president; Milo Zimmerman, Secretary; Barry Enck, Treasurer.
